Land Acknowledgement

“To acknowledge this traditional territory is to recognize its longer history, one predating the establishment of the earliest European colonies. It is also to acknowledge this territory’s significance for the Indigenous Peoples who lived, and continue to live, upon it and whose practices and spiritualities were tied to the land and continue to develop in relationship to the territory and its other inhabitants today.”

- Queen’s University Office of Indigenous Initiatives

About QGM

Founded in 2012, Queen's Global Markets is a premier undergraduate think-tank dedicated to providing the Queen's student body with knowledge of macroeconomics, capital markets, and public policy.

QGM is an amazing opportunity to go beyond your learning in the commerce program and engage in debates, presentations, and reports that balance advocacy, market predictions, and pure trend analyses. If you have a passion for learning about the world, QGM is the club for you!

Roles and Responsibilities

Coverage Roles:

Analyst

Analyze, present, and discuss various economic and political topics pursued by your coverage team. Emphasis is placed on your ability to impartially and objectively research relevant issues, as well as your teamwork, presentation and writing skills.

Director

All traits displayed by the Analyst role. Additional responsibilities may include leading your coverage team alongside your Senior Directors. You will also work with Co-Chairs to achieve QGM's critical strategic objectives. Strong project management and leadership skills are crucial for success in this role.

Senior Director

All traits displayed by the previous roles. Well-developed leadership abilities are required for managing your team of four or five analysts and directors. You will work very closely with the Co-Chairs to achieve QGM's critical strategic objectives. Strong project management and leadership skills are vital in this role, as well as demonstrating accountability.

Roles and Responsibilities

Operational Roles:

Marketing Director

Key responsibilities include creating content for QGM's various social media platforms, building engagement across all social media platforms, managing and updating QGM's website when new content is created, and developing and executing new promotional campaigns alongside the Co-Chairs.

EDII Director

Key responsibilities include creating a safe, supportive, and welcoming environment for all members and students, moderating discussions and calling out inappropriate behaviour, checking in with members each semester to gather feedback, chat informally, and answer questions, and bringing forward new ideas to make QGM more inclusive in the future.

Brand Director

You will work very closely with the Co-Chairs, Marketing Director, and the Podcast team to achieve QGM's critical strategic branding objectives. Strong project management abilities and initiative are vital in this role, as well as demonstrating accountability.

Roles and Responsibilities

Non-Sequitur (Podcast) Roles:

Podcast Director

Pitch, research, and host podcast episodes on macroeconomics, global markets, politics, and general events. Other responsibilities will include curating guests, either from members of the coverage teams, or external parties. Valuable characteristics include critical thinking, strong collaborative skills, listening skills, and creativity.

Podcast Producer

Pitch, research, and host podcast episodes on macroeconomics, global markets, politics, and general events. Valuable characteristics include critical thinking, strong collaborative skills, listening skills, and creativity.

Editor

Primary activities will include editing podcast episodes and creating audio content to engage listeners. You will also be expected to collaborate with the Marketing Director to ensure episodes and clips are published in a timely manner to their correct platforms. Valuable characteristics include technical skills in sound engineering, strong attention to detail, and creativity.

Tips for the Interview

Format:

First Round: 15 minutes consisting of behavioural questions, various market trends and current events, macroeconomic technical questions, and some brain teaser and general knowledge questions.

Second Round: 20-minute discussion that could consist of your previous experiences, follow-up questions on your written application topic, major macroeconomic events, and a series of more in-depth economic technical questions.

Market Trend Question:

One written application question will be to write about a market trend that you are interested in and articulate your opinion or prediction of where you see your trend going. We highly encourage you to find a trend that is niche (i.e. not very mainstream) and revolves around a topic you are truly passionate about. While you may have to find an emerging trend from a news source or book, we encourage you to not simply recite one article but instead synthesize from several sources to form an informed opinion about the topic. Please ensure that your market trend is relevant to one of the six coverage teams outlined in our Club Structure.

Accommodations Statement

QGM recognized the importance of providing equal opportunities to all applicants to our club. If you require any accommodations throughout the application process, you can reach out to the co-chairs by sending an email to Piers Cassidy (piers.cassidy@queensu.ca) or Tian Li (tian.li@queensu.ca). Please do not hesitate to access accommodations if you require them.
